Maggie Vanderweit

Maggie is well-known for her fibre art but also for her teaching skills, and her business Stone Threads. Her work has been displayed in numerous venues around the world. She has recently added author to her resume with her self-published book. Maggie creates original contemporary art with hand-painted, rusted and botanical dyed fabrics, silk fusion, felt, hand embroidery, beading, collage and intricately machine quilted surfaces.

About My Talk

I will touch on my experiences and techniques as a fibre artist. I will share my inspiration to create and how it is influenced by the interconnected social, personal, spiritual and natural universes.
