Course Outline:

Come and experiment with different transfer techniques to create your own custom tiles – perfect for shower or backsplash accents, a kitchen tray or trivet. Cuerda seca is a technique where a design is outlined with an oxide-tinted wax. The wax will resist the glaze when it is applied to colored areas. Finished results show areas of glaze divided by dark unglazed lines. This workshop is suitable for beginners and those with some experience. The cost of the workshop includes all required materials.

Course Materials:

All materials for the course are covered in the course fee.
